Prayer ... has no virtue or merit of itself. All the flowery words at our command are not equivalent to one holy desire. The most eloquent prayers are but idle words if they do not express the true sentiments of the heart. But the prayer that comes from an earnest heart, when the simple wants of the soul are expressed, as we would ask an earthly friend for a favor, expecting it to be granted

Thank you, Brian (and thank you, God!) I was hit with a double whammy last week: in addition to the sinus infection I also had some fairly major skin surgery on my back Tuesday and have been recovering from that also (about a 5 long and deeper-than usual incision. That has been slowly(and angrily) healing up. I'm on antibiotic for both problems. I had a fever of almost 102 for a couple days, but that has subsided now. The repair seems to be on-course my doc tells me. 'See you next Sabbath. I deeply appreciate the fine instruction your teaching brought to the class, last Sabbath. (Elder Follett was out preaching on the circuit, you know. Isn't he a wonderful blessing to our class?!) Sincerely, George -
